The Celebration of Hope and Healing is Less than Three Weeks Away!

On Sunday, February 24, SURVIVORS will celebrate its 11th anniversary with an event featuring Carlos Mauricio, a dynamic and inspirational survivor from El Salvador. Carlos will speak about his experiences, his road to healing, and his ground-breaking U.S. trial against the Salvadoran generals responsible for the torture he endured.

"There, I was a professor in the university. And I came here and I was nothing. I had to begin again and rebuild my life."

Joining Carlos will be youth from the Tucson-based Owl & Panther expressive arts group. These young adults from Uganda, Mali, and El Salvador will be reading their published stories and poetry that reflect their past experiences and the challenges they face adjusting to life in a new country.

A chocolate and cabernet reception will follow the featured speakers.

Sunday, February 24, 2007
2:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m.
